Handcrafted in Bucks County, Pa

www.byerschoice.com

It was the late 1960s and Joyce Byers, an amateur artist with a degree in fashion design, was disappointed in what she was seeing in the stores: aluminum tinsel trees with garish blue lights. She was looking for holiday decorations with warmth that showed respect for timeless traditions and her own memories of Christmas.

The first Carolers graced the Byers' dining room table that Christmas, and they received compliments from all of the relatives. On a tight budget, Joyce knew what to make for presents the following year. A neighbor suggested taking some to a local store, where they sold quickly. The store was part of a federation of Woman's Exchanges and introduced the Carolers to other exchanges around the country. Soon a couple of dozen stores around the country were asking Joyce to supply them with Carolers.

Joyce pressed her husband, Bob, and their two sons into service to help produce the figures each autumn. It wasn't long before the Carolers overwhelmed the dining room table, where the family gathered to work together. "Every year the house would be a total wreck, and I'd say that we're never doing this again!" remembers Joyce.

But when a downturn in the economy hurt his construction business, Bob looked around and saw some potential in the Carolers. He decided to devote more of his energies to the fledgling business, and in 1978, the couple hired their first employee, and turned the garage into a workshop.

The unique appearance and handcrafted quality of the Carolers quickly gained a following. Each year, Bob and Joyce would work with their crew of trained artisans up until Christmas Eve putting the finishing touches on Carolers.

The two sons joined the company upon graduating from college and have played an important role in the growth of the firm, with Bob working in production and Jeff helping with marketing and design. "We always say that mom's hobby has gotten a little out of control," jokes Jeff.

Together, the family now oversees a team of 40 artisans in Pennsylvania who handcraft those same creations that started out on the dining room table many years ago. And although the Carolers are sold in thousands of fine gift stores around the world, the company still holds to its starting roots: producing a quality product, at an affordable price, and serving its customers and the community in the spirit of Christmas.

Dressed for Winter

Transport yourself to a bygone era of yuletide cheer with the Davis family dressed in their finest holiday attire, sharing the charm of a Dickensian Christmas. This ensemble embodies the warmth and merriment of Christmas while paying homage to the significance of cranberries during the season. The mother cradles a basket of glistening berries as a nod to the many cranberry inspired dishes she'll soon prepare. The father showcases a holly cranberry wreath which is highlighted by the berries vibrant red hue, a perfect blend of holiday color. At the heart of the scene, the young boy adds a melodious dimension to their caroling with a French horn.

Cookie-licious

Who do we have to thank for the tradition of the Christmas cookie? The creators of the Lebkuchen of course! Pronounced LAYB-kue-chn and sometimes referred to as Pfefferkuchen - it is a German baked Christmas treat resembling gingerbread that dates back to the medieval monks in Franconia, Germany in 1296 in the city of Ulm. Most famously known today as an export of Nuremberg, the main ingredients consist of: Hazelnuts, Walnuts, Almonds, Candied Orange and Lemon Peel.

Fröhliche Weihnachten

In Germany, it is not Santa Claus who traditionally delivers gifts on Christmas Eve. Instead, the Christkind, an angel-like creature veiled in white with golden hair, brings gifts to families on the Eve of Christmas. She arrives secretly through an open window and rings a bell to announce that the presents have been placed under the Christmas tree.

Christkind, the German name for the Christ Child, originally referred directly to the Holy Infant Jesus, who was said to bring gifts to children on Christmas Eve. Later the name came to stand for the embodiment of the Child's spirit, in angelic form, who brought the gifts in his place.

Christmas Sweets

There's probably not a single aroma that says "Christmas" more than the smell of fresh gingerbread baking in the oven. The ginger root, whose intense flavor is at the heart of gingerbread, was introduced to Europeans in the eleventh century. When the English began adding bread crumbs to mixtures of boiled ginger and sugar, the Western world saw its first forerunners of the gingerbread we know today. Gingerbread adorns this happy little family, as they finish up their Christmas Eve shopping before heading home to prepare for the festivities ahead.

Christmas Nutcrackers

Nutcrackers are believed to have originated in the Erzgebirge region of Germany about 300 years ago. An artisan carved a wooden soldier with a movable mouth to symbolically crack the “hard nut” of the economic times. The figure quickly became popular throughout the region, Germany, and the world.

A Sweet Surprise

This Candy Cane Vendor will ensure this favorite sweet makes the holiday festivities. One of the most iconic Christmas candies in every holiday home is the classic candy cane. Legend has it that in 1670, a choirmaster in Germany, handed out candy sticks to his little ones to keep them quiet during the live nativity ceremony. In honor of the occasion, he decided to bend the peppermint sticks into shepherd's crooks.

A CHRISTMAS CAROL

Charles Dickens' classic tale is brought to life with our A Christmas Carol series.

A Christmas Carol and Charles Dickens mean a great deal to everyone at Byers' Choice. Scrooge's declaration, "I will honor Christmas in my heart, and try to keep it all the year" constantly guides us. The message to celebrate Christmas and help others is just as important today; Dickens could not have said it better!

Happy Scrooge joins the collection in 2023. After being visited by the Spirits, old Ebenezer Scrooge wakes up on Christmas morning a new man. After his transformation, "It was always said of him, that he knew how to keep Christmas well, if any man alive possessed the knowledge."

THANKSGIVING COLLECTION

Harvest Season

Pay homage to the first Thanksgiving while adding a touch of harvest to your home this Autumn. In 1621, the Plymouth colonists and Wampanoag Indians shared an autumn harvest feast which is acknowledged today as one of the first Thanksgiving celebrations in the colonies. Although this feast is considered by many to be the very first Thanksgiving celebration, it was actually in keeping with a long tradition of celebrating the harvest and giving thanks for a successful bounty of crops.

Kindles™—perhaps you have already heard of their work. Have you ever wondered how a snowman seems to wink just as you walk by, or how the lights on the tree seem to have an extra sparkle on Christmas Eve? Consider Kindles. How does Santa manage to fit down even the tightest of chimneys? It's our Kindles at work again, putting the twinkle in the eye of even the smallest child believing in the magic of Christmas morning.

Far away in a land where snow falls in glittering heaps like confectioner's sugar, there lives a group of sprites whose vast experience, energy, and spirit have given them an extraordinary opportunity. These aren't just elves, they'd be quick to point out with pride and distinction. They are Kindles, Guardians of the Christmas Spirit.
